

Interpretendprint (remote validation w/IdP)

```
async def introspect_token(token: str, token_type_hint: str = "access_token") → dict:
    """Introspects the token using the authorization server's introspection endpoint."""
    async with httpx.AsyncClient() as client:
        response = await client.post( INTROSPECTION_ENDPOINT,
            data={
                "token": token,
                "token_type_hint": token_type_hint,
                "client_id": CLIENT_ID,
            },
            headers={
                "Content-Type": "application/x-www-form-urlencoded",
            },
        )
        response.raise_for_status()
    return response.json()
```

```
if USE_INTROSPECTION:
    # Use introspection to validate the token
    introspection_result = await introspect_token(token)
    if not introspection_result.get("active"):
        raise HTTPException(
            status_code=status.HTTP_401_UNAUTHORIZED, detail="Token is inactive or invalid"
        )
    # Extract user data and scopes from introspection result
    user_data = {
        "sub": introspection_result["sub"],
        "username": introspection_result.get("username", introspection_result["sub"]),
    }

    # Get scopes
    token_scopes = introspection_result.get("scope", "").split()

    # Validate the 'aud' claim
    if introspection_result.get("aud") != config('OKTA_AUDIENCE'):
        raise HTTPException(
            status_code=status.HTTP_401_UNAUTHORIZED, detail="Invalid audience"
        )
```